

The following diagram illustrates the layers of the architecture of easyLog's applications:

Web browser and IIS is required for internet access, but this is not necessary for local LAN connections